Purpose

The purpose of this document is to provide the technical qualifications required for licence classes under the Queensland Building and Construction Commission Regulation 2018 (QBCC Regulation).

Background

The Queensland Building and Construction Commission (QBCC) is a statutory body which oversees Queensland's building and construction industry. The QBCC is responsible for licensing building and construction contractors and occupations.

The Department of Housing and Public Works (the department) is responsible for developing and implementing the policy and legislation of the QBCC.

Legislation

Queensland Building and Construction Commission Act 1991

Part 3, Division 1 of the Queensland Building and Construction Commission Act 1991 (QBCC Act) establishes the following types of licence that a person may apply for:

- Contractor licence—entitles the licence holder to carry out building work
- Nominee supervisor—entitles the licence holder to provide supervisory services for building work carried out under the company's licence and perform the functions required of a nominee under the QBCC Act
- Site supervisor—entitles the licence holder to personally supervise building work carried out under a company or contractor's licence
- Fire protection occupational licence—entitles the licence holder to personally carry out and personally supervise fire protection work.

The QBCC Act allows each of the above types of licence to be divided into classes by regulation.

Part 3, Division 2 of the QBCC Act provides the criteria a person must meet in order to be entitled to a licence. Amongst other things, a person must have the qualifications and experience required by regulation in relation to a licence of the relevant class.

Queensland Building and Construction Commission Regulation 2018

Part 3 of the QBCC Regulation provides that contractor and nominee supervisor licences are available for each of the licence classes set out in Schedule 2 of the QBCC Regulation. Site supervisor licences are available for each licence class other than the fire protection licenses specified in parts 22 to 33 of Schedule 2. The classes of fire protection occupational licence are set out in Schedule 3 of the QBCC Regulation.

Part 3 of the QBCC Regulation refers to the qualifications and experience stated in schedules 2 and 3 for the relevant class of licence. Schedules 2 and 3 of the QBCC Regulation further provide that the technical qualifications for each licence class are those stated in the technical qualifications document.

Under the QBCC Regulation, the technical qualifications document is defined as the document called 'Technical Qualifications for Licensing' made by the chief executive and published on the department's website.

Statutory Instruments Act 1992

Under section 23 of the Statutory Instruments Act 1992, if an Act or statutory instrument authorises or requires the making of a statutory instrument with respect to a matter, a statutory instrument made under the authorising law may make provision for the matter by applying another document as in force at a particular time or from time to time.

About this document

This document sets out the technical qualifications required for each class of licence under Schedules 2 and 3 of the QBCC Regulation. For the Schedule 2 licence classes, the same technical qualifications will apply for a contractor licence, nominee supervisor licence or site supervisor licence, unless otherwise specified. For example, a person seeking a carpentry licence would need to attain the technical qualifications set out under part 16 of this document, regardless of whether their application was for a contractor, nominee supervisor or site supervisor carpentry licence. However, some licences (parts 4 to 10 and 55) have different technical qualifications for the contractor and nominee supervisor licences compared to the site supervisor licence.
